

"Our company has aggressive growth plans. Molex designed the right network to achieve our goals."

Individual solutions, designed for individual needs

Whether your organisation is a global leader or a new venture, choosing the right network infrastructure for your business can be a daunting task.

Our comprehensive end-to-end solutions are designed to provide a customised solution, tailored to support your business today, whilst providing the necessary performance to future proof your requirements for tomorrow.

For over 20 years the Premise Networks Division of Molex has manufactured comprehensive UTP, FTP and Optical Fibre cabling systems for the transmission of voice, data and video imaging signals.

As one of the original pioneers of structured cabling we have provided state-of-the-art cabling solutions to some of the largest organisations in the world.

To find out more, contact us on 01489 898735 or visit our website today.